ARMISTICE POSTPONED

Alies Not Ready to Sign Protocol Until Tuesday.

Greek Delights to Peace Conference. Have Not Yet Reached Authority to Act. But When They Do It Is Believed That the War Will Be Quickly Ended.—Peace Negotiations Will Be Long.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—The signing of the protocol of the armistice between the Balkan allies and Turkey, which was expected yesterday, has been postponed until tomorrow, and has been postponed for the second time.

It is rumored that in addition to the Bulgarian troops just landed at the Dardanelles, another large force of Greek troops from Saloniki is to be sent to the front.

It is suggested that Greece may desire signing the armistice in order to enable these troops to arrive at the Gallipoli front, in alliance with the British, and to participate in the operations.

The philo-hellenists appear to have succeeded so far in arranging the armistice, but a peace conference is expected to be held at Athens, and the Greek Government is expected to be held at Athens, and the Greek Government is expected to be held at Athens.

There is little doubt, however, that the peace negotiations will be difficult and protracted. The question of holding a European peace conference is still undecided, but the international situation is becoming more and more difficult.

At the same time, Turkey appears to be in a very strong position, and the peace negotiations will be difficult and protracted. The question of holding a European peace conference is still undecided, but the international situation is becoming more and more difficult.

GRADUATION EXERCISES AT GENERAL HOSPITAL

Graduation exercises were held at the modern training school for nurses on the 2nd inst. The exercises were held at the General Hospital in the city and were attended by the city. Four nurses were graduated, namely, Maude Thompson, Wilson, and Whitlock. The proceedings were presided over by Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P. After an appropriate prayer by the Rev. C. G. Smith, pastor of the Baptist Church, the chairman gave an appropriate address. He referred to the establishment of the hospital in the city and the good work which had been and was being done. It was an institution which was slowly managed and was a credit to the city.

In referring to the inception of the hospital, Mr. Johnson spoke of the late Mrs. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P. and Mrs. H. W. M. Johnson, who in their life time did much for it. It was an institution which should be encouraged in every way and especially by public aid.

Miss Greene, the Lady Superintendent, read a statement of the work done in the hospital during the year, from 1912 to 1913. She stated that the hospital had received 1,000 patients, and many additional nurses had been engaged. At present the hospital was short of nurses.

Mr. Johnson then gave the following address to the graduating class: "You say this evening has before you the very pleasant duty of reviewing the work of the past year. It is a duty which is very important and which will be of great value to you in your future work."

Dr. Yoneman then gave the following address to the graduating class: "The work of the hospital is a very important one and it is one which will be of great value to you in your future work. It is a work which is very important and which will be of great value to you in your future work."

In looking over the history of the Modern Training School, extending back nearly a hundred years, one cannot but be impressed by reading the history of the hospital. The history of the hospital is a very important one and it is one which will be of great value to you in your future work.

During the search of the premises, Ryan said he found that his attorney and the police had been searching for him. He said that he had been searching for him and that he had been searching for him.

Johnson said that he had been searching for the girl and that he had been searching for her. He said that he had been searching for her and that he had been searching for her.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

Thursday, Dec. 6th.
MORNING SESSION.
 Council resumed at 10 o'clock.
 Warden Hanley in the chair.
 The minutes of Wednesday's session were read and confirmed.
 Mr. H. J. Clarke presented his report showing the number of inspectors of schools made in his inspection of South Hastings—Frid.

FINANCIALS.
 Mr. H. J. Thompson, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented a report which showed that the Treasurer and Clerk's offices had been re-estimated, and that the total cost was $30.35.

The report recommended that some action be taken in reference to providing for the Belleville City Council the sum of $4,000, being the city's share of the expense of constructing the boundary bridge between the city and the county. This money had not yet been paid although a demand had been made on the city Treasurer for it.

Tenders were asked for the construction of a bridge on the boundary between the city and the county, the Moira River, 100 feet span, 100 feet wide. The tender of the Ontario Bridge Company was the lowest.

The report showed that the supply of coal for the county building and the House of Refuge had been provided from the Anderson Co. at a satisfactory price.

The county had received a cheque for $20,000 from the Dominion Government for payment of the bridge at Frankford.

Mr. Thompson moved the adoption of the report.
 Mr. Vermeulen said the committee desired to know if the bridge was the chairman, had done excellent work and strong views thereon.

HAPPY THOU, MARRIED?

It is a well known fact that a large percentage of those who marry do so for the wrong reasons. The husband and wife are not united in love, but in a selfish desire to escape the loneliness of the bachelor and spinster life. The result is a life of unhappiness and misery. The only way to escape this is to marry for the right reasons. The husband and wife should be united in love, and in a common purpose to live a life of happiness and contentment. The only way to achieve this is to marry for the right reasons. The husband and wife should be united in love, and in a common purpose to live a life of happiness and contentment. The only way to achieve this is to marry for the right reasons.

The Medical Adviser to P. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "The only way to escape the loneliness of the bachelor and spinster life is to marry for the right reasons. The husband and wife should be united in love, and in a common purpose to live a life of happiness and contentment. The only way to achieve this is to marry for the right reasons."

Plans For Picton's New Armory

Mayor C. H. Allison, the Town Council and members of the citizens committee of Picton, came together last evening to consider the plans and specifications for the new armory with which town is to be favored, submitted by Mr. R. B. Hepburn, M. P. for their instruction.

The place was made up by the Government Architect, and were elegantly drawn in white lines on blue paper. The elevation showed in clear outlines the appearance it will present when completed, and gave the combined committee a clear idea of the nature and extent of the work before them. The building, which is 100 feet by 85 feet and of good height will be no small addition to the public edifices of the town. It will be completed in brick and stone, and will have a gabled roof.

The daughters of the Empire had the same thing in mind with the Canadian Club, and the speaker predicted that the town would come where Canada would get many profits, and be an ally of the Empire.

When space justice had been done to the well-known speaker, Mr. Kinney, who was the guest of honor, on behalf of the staff and employees, presented the manager with a magnificent quarter-cut rack, a magnificent quarter-cut rack, a magnificent quarter-cut rack, a magnificent quarter-cut rack, a magnificent quarter-cut rack.

The Hospital for Sick Children

Dear Mr. Editor:-

It would take more space than you can spare to tell of the good work done by the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, for the sick and distressed of this Dominion. I me, in a few words, tell you of the steady growth of this Hospital.

In the year 1876 there were only six cots and beds, one nurse, 46 in-patients

WHITELAW DEAD

U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain Passes Away.

Said, Journalist and Diplomat Was Successor to Joseph H. Choate and in His Time at St. James' Palace and at the British Legation in Paris Was Editor and Then Proprietor of the N. Y. Tribune.

London, Dec. 16.—Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador to Great Britain since 1905, died at his London residence, Dorchester House, shortly after noon yesterday, from pulmonary edema. The death was quite peaceful. Mrs. Reid and their daughter, Mrs. John Holburn Ward, were at the bedside.

The ambassador had been unaccountably ill since a cold in the morning, and at intervals during the previous 24 hours he had been slightly delirious as a result of the drugs administered to him.

The Hon. John Holburn Ward, who is the ambassador's son-in-law, said the death occurred at 10 o'clock. The ambassador had been unaccountably ill since a cold in the morning, and at intervals during the previous 24 hours he had been slightly delirious as a result of the drugs administered to him.

There will undoubtedly be a memorial service in one of the great cathedrals in London in addition to the service in some small chapel for the members of the family and the staff of the embassy. The Government also will in all probability offer the use of a warship in transporting the body to New York.

Whitelaw Reid was in his seventy-third year, having been born Oct. 27, 1837, in Xenia, Ohio. He became a newspaper writer at an early period of his life, and was the proprietor of the New York Tribune for many years and afterwards a newspaper proprietor in London.

He was, however, his newspaper career had been a varied one. He served in the army during the American Civil War in 1862, and then as war correspondent at many of the important battles. At one time he was chief of the

Italian Consul Seeks a Delay For Battista

MONTREAL, Dec. 18.—While Carlo di Battista, who is condemned to die this Friday morning, is in prison and moping in his cell as the fatal morning for hanging approaches, strong efforts are being made by his father-in-law in Montreal to have his execution delayed at least for a week.

At noon today the Italian consul rushed down to the court house and tried to see Judge Lacombe, but the latter was not in the office. The consul went away in great agitation. It was generally believed that he went to the court house, with a view of getting Judge Lacombe to delay the execution, but the latter could not be persuaded to do so.

The consul announced this morning that the United States government was willing to let the consul send a day of execution given to the fact that Battista had been sentenced to death on the knowledge of the murder of the Italian king, but that the United States government was not supposed to have been killed by the Italian king in Montreal, however, the consul has made any effort to delay sentence.

While a New Italian detective was in Montreal, and went away satisfied that Battista's alleged accomplice should be sent to the knowledge of the famous murder of the Italian king, and the United States government authorities accepted this opinion, the Italian consul in Montreal, however, believed that it would be better to delay sentence until Battista's charges had either been proved or disproved.

This week the Italian consul received a letter from Battista's wife, asking him to see her. The consul wrote that Battista was still in prison, and that he was not in the city. He was not in the city immediately, but he was in the city to see her.

Meanwhile, although the Italian consul believed that the charges made by the Italian king were true, he was not in the city to see her. He was not in the city to see her, but he was in the city to see her.

LATE WM. OOLIVIE WAS A MAN OF GREAT ABILITIES.

He died the Consumption of Heart of Oldsiders in the Klamath in the Bush of 78 With an Impaired Mind and Although He Might Have Made Millions He Came Out Poor—A Great Engineer.

By the passing away of William Oolivie a short time ago Canada lost a very distinguished son who achieved a high reputation for probity and administrative capacity while governing the Yukon during the most important period in the history of that gold country. In 1898 the Deputy Minister of the Interior in a public report placed him as an explorer on a plane with Stanley, Livingston and other explorers. The simple narrative of his services left the tale of a man who had thoroughly devoted his work and who incurred dangers and hardships of the most serious kind and who had been a most lovable companion. In private life he was a most lovable companion and he was a most lovable companion and he was a most lovable companion.

AN IMMENSE CROWD AT THE BELLEVILLE MARKET

A Boston Man's First Visit To The Weekly Rest For Food Supplies - What He Saw and What He Assembled In The Price.

The annual Christmas crowd at the Belleville market is always an event in the retailing epoch in the city's history, but during the morning of the 24th, the throng that packed the lower portion of the city hall would have done credit to a fair of the Toronto market place. It was truly a refreshing sight, these long tables laden with turkey, geese, ducks and chickens; the hotel attendants standing aloof to shoulder and deliver to the critical purchasers, minus the wrapper, with a complacent expression acquired by long experience. The supply in a general sense was of high quality, with prices for turkeys ranging from $2.25 to $3.00; ducks $3.00 each or $1.50 per pair, one party asking as high as $1.75 for a brace; chickens were of any size, or $1.00 per pair, while the geese, at a top figure. You couldn't buy a turkey under 40 cents, and you couldn't buy a duck under 20 cents, and you couldn't buy a chicken under 10 cents, and you couldn't buy a turkey under 10 cents, and you couldn't buy a duck under 10 cents, and you couldn't buy a chicken under 10 cents.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1912.

ONE GIRL'S PLUCK

She Out-Generaled a Robber and Saved Her Father's Position.

By H. M. ROBERT.

As the freight train disappeared from the bend into the distance, she crept under the lee of the engine and looked across the tracks at him. His clothes were ragged, his hair disheveled, and his eyes were wild. He was a stranger, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl.

This time, however, fate seemed to have been kind to him. He had laid his plan well. He had ridden from Unionville on a freight and looked out at the prearranged place where he would meet his prey. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl.

The night was moonless and she drew him in; the chains of capture were almost instantaneous. Once the girl was in the freight and looked out at the prearranged place where he would meet his prey. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl. He was a robber, and she was a girl.

"I want that money in that drawer," she said. "I want that money in that drawer," she said. "I want that money in that drawer," she said. "I want that money in that drawer," she said. "I want that money in that drawer," she said.

He heard as he drew nearer the bayonet. He heard as he drew nearer the bayonet. He heard as he drew nearer the bayonet. He heard as he drew nearer the bayonet. He heard as he drew nearer the bayonet. He heard as he drew nearer the bayonet.

Bomb Thrown at Lord Harding's Home—Attendant.

His entry into Delhi is marred by an outrage in which the King's representative in India is slain.

By Waived—May Be Mark of Muslim Resentment Over Change of Capital.

DELHI, India, Dec. 25.—Lord Hardinge, Viceroy of India, was wounded, but not seriously, by a bomb hurled at the Viceroy from a balcony as he was entering the new building at 10 a.m. yesterday.

The bomb-thrower's attempt to kill Lord Hardinge came within a hair's breadth of being successful.

The sufferer for the attempt is a man on which it will be impossible to depend a guess until it is known whether the mission is a Hindu or a Muslim.

It is not known as yet whether the bomb-thrower has been arrested. It is reported that he may have been a manifestation of Muslim resentment at the British occupancy of the ancient Hindu domain.

A warning was issued to the Viceroy that he should be careful of his movements, as it was expected that some violence would be attempted at the state entry of the Viceroy into Delhi.

The Viceroy is making his entry into Delhi on Tuesday, the last of the year.

The Word was made flesh and dwelt among us—John 1:14.

This is one of the most memorable and essential transactions in relation to the world for the coming year. It was not an event of the past, but a world of souls without preparation. CHRISTMAS DAY IN BELLEVILLE

With all its old-time, peace-loving atmosphere, the homes of our little city, in a general sense, had much to be thankful for in that it brought to the minds of our people the fact that the loved ones who find their happiness elsewhere, which, though it is a very pleasant season, is not a very pleasant season.

It was a public scene, but it was quiet, with here and there an attraction which drew the crowd.

At the usual morning hour service was held at several of the churches with sermons appropriate to the day of profit and interest to all who attended.

In the afternoon the opening of the season, the public scene, but it was quiet, with here and there an attraction which drew the crowd.
